OKLAHOMA TEAM STRONG THIS YEAR

Running Big Scores, While Own Goal Line is Still Uncrossed.

TIGERS IN GOOD CONDITION

Spurgeon and Wiggins Added to Squad—Practice on Golf Links.

"Oklahoma is looming up strong," said C. L. Brewer, director of athletics, today. "They are running up big scores, and I don't think they have been scored on this season. Saturday they beat Washburn College 37 to 0."

Washburn is a contender for the Kansas State Championship, and played a tie game with Baker University, which in turn tied Kansas this year. Washburn will play Kansas Saturday. Lloyd Driver, an old Tiger star, is coaching Washburn.

"If Bles can stand it, he will be used at quarterback," said Mr. Brewer. The doubt is caused by Bles' weight. He tips the scales at 135 pounds. Roberts and Woodward, who are both considered light, weigh 155 pounds. But Bles on the freshman team last year showed marked ability. He is speedy and uses good headwork in play.

"We need a quarterback that will speed the team up," said Mr. Brewer. "That is our only hope of winning against a strong team."

Bles was worked yesterday part of the time, and is certain to play part of the game against the Sooners if he is not injured again.

Two New Men on Squad.

Spurgeon and Wiggins were added to the Varsity squad yesterday, and worked out in the backfield. The practice was on the golf links, where the ground is springier than the surface of Rollins Field. This afternoon, tomorrow and Thursday the Varsity will scrimmage. Tomorrow they probably will play the freshmen.

The players, with the exception of Edgar Anderson, are in good shape. Anderson hurt his neck and shoulder at Lincoln, but probably will be all right in a couple of days. The linemen, a number of whom had slight injuries, received in the work before the Nebraska game, are almost all back to form.

The Tigers should enter the game with Oklahoma in the best of shape. With every man on the squad, with the exception of Anderson, in good shape, with Bles in the game, and Spurgeon, Wiggins and Dexter to reinforce the backfield, the line-up should indicate Missouri's real strength. The Sooners, however, will in all probability prove stronger than they did against Hackney, Knobel and Company last year.

Washington Strong.

After the Oklahoma game the Tigers will work out some new plays to be used in the Washington game, which will be played in St. Louis, November 11. The majority of Tiger followers fail to realize that one of Missouri's hardest games will be with Washington University. This year's Myrtle and Maroon team is composed of the pick of talent turned out by the interscholastic league of St. Louis among whom are P. and H. Nelson, Dike Nipgher, Alfred Sihler, Tubby Volmar, and several more fast and heavy men. Contrary to the usual condition, all of Washington's best men are eligible, and this will give Coach Cayou the strong team that has represented Washington for years.

"Many inquiries are received," said J. L. Henry, county clerk, "about the territory in which the holder of a license may hunt. Boone County license holders may hunt in any of the eight counties adjoining."

Nineteen hunting licenses were issued Saturday and nineteen more yesterday.

DON'T KNOW WHO TO ROOT FOR

Oklahoma Students in a Quandary Over Tiger-Sooners Game.

Torn between love and duty, heart and home, state and Alma Mater, was the plight of members of the Oklahoma Club at the meeting last night at the Y. M. C. A. Building. Here's the trouble:

The Oklahoma Sooners are to meet the Tigers next Saturday, and the Oklahoma Club wanted to show its patriotism for its home state without conflicting with its loyalty to the University of Missouri. And this was still further complicated by the fact that two of the members of the club are on the Tiger squad.

Some wanted to go in a body to the game wearing Oklahoma colors, and to root for the Sooners—Freshmen these—others insisted that they must wear the colors of both teams and root for the Tigers, while still others vowed that they would wear Missouri colors, would root only for the Tigers, and would not even go with the rest of the club if there was to be any rooting done for the Sooners.

They argued. Finally F. C. Duvall of Tonkawa, a Tiger, told the club he thought the Sooners would receive a few cheers through courtesy, and he was willing to hear a little rooting for the Sooners from the Oklahoma Club if they felt like it.

John Carter of Miami, the president, ruled that the members of the club might go to the game separately, wear any colors they liked, and root for either team they pleased.
